Traffic—Salvage Commission Begins Work.
Group Funerals Continue.

Columbus, O., April 4.—

NEWLY IDENTIFIED BODIES.

Mrs. J. F. Cooper, 1103 Sullivant avenue.

Mrs. Anna Needles, 242 Glenwood avenue.

Mrs. Elizabeth Virginia Keyes, 85, 83 West Park avenue.

Gideon Harvey Wolfe, 1091 Sullivant avenue.

Henry James Morgan, 38, (colored), lived in the rear of the municipal light plant.

Slowly the cemetery district continues to reveal bodies of flood victims. Three were found yesterday and taken to the West Town street morgue in addition to the body found Wednesday afternoon, which could not be removed then. This body was removed to the morgue yesterday and identified as Mrs. Anna Needles, 242 Glenwood avenue. The total number of bodies recovered to date is 82.

The rain yesterday impeded the progress of the search to a considerable extent. The searchers were greatly hampered by the softening of the mud.

Mrs. Cooper's Body Found.

With the recovery of the body of Mrs. James T. Cooper, 1103 Sullivant avenue, all of the Cooper family who lost their lives with the exception of that of the grandmother, Mrs. Henry Hammerstein, have been found. Mrs. Cooper and her two children, Carl 10, and Emma Louise 5, were buried in Green Lawn. Funeral services were held at the Friends church, Sullivant and Central avenues. The funeral of the two children had been arranged before the body of the mother was recovered.

Patrolman Joseph H. Keyes yesterday identified the body of an aged woman, which had been taken to the morgue, as his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Virginia Keyes, aged 85, of 83 West Park avenue. Both he and his brother, Harry Keyes, had been searching for her body ever since the flood. The body was found near the Jackson road, south of Greenlawn avenue. Harry Keyes held his mother for some hours in a tree last week.

Mrs. Gideon Harvey Wolfe and her 6-year-old daughter of 1091 Sullivant avenue still are missing. The body of Mr. Wolfe was recovered yesterday on the Stimmel road near the Jackson pike, south of the cemetery district. It was identified by relatives. Mr. Wolfe was 42 years old.

Another Family Complete.

When the body of Mrs. Anna Needles, 242 Glenwood avenue, was recovered the last of those to lose their lives from that residence when it crumbled in the waters has been accounted for. The bodies of her grandchildren, Mrs. Edna Burkhardt and Paul Burkhardt, aged 7, had been found previously.

Mrs. Hartley Still Missing.

Mrs. Earl F. Hartley and baby boy, 347 Glenwood avenue, still are missing. Mrs. J. H. Shipley, 452 Centner avenue, also has not been found. Both these homes were washed away and it is supposed the missing ones perished.

Funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Bunn and daughter, Lucile, 391 Glenwood avenue, will be held at 2 p. m. today from First Presbyterian church, Bryden Road and Ohio avenue. Burial will be made in Green Lawn cemetery.

All Westside Streets Open

All of the streets of the West Side were opened to traffic yesterday morning. Eight district gangs of men and teams under the direction of the engineering department of the city have been cleaning up the mud and clearing away the debris. Yesterday 125 teams were at work hauling the mud and refuse away and 500 men were employed in loading the wagons. Fifty more teams and wagons and 1000 additional men can be used by the department.

Much of the refuse is being hauled to the dump at San dusky Street and Dublin Avenue. Considerable property, which is beyond use, is being burned.

COUNTY ALSO VICTIM
IN ILLEGAL DEPOSIT
OF THE TRUST FUNDS

Columbus, O., April 4.—Developments in the Columbus Savings and Trust Company probe yesterday shows the探者 have reason to believe that not only state, but county and township funds, were illegally deposited, particularly in the now defunct Columbus Savings and Trust Company.

Alleged interest check shown, dated Aug. 16, 1904, made out to Cyrus Huling, then president of the bank, and cashed with the indorsement of a merchandising firm, of which Willis G. Bowland, then county treasurer, was a member.

County Prosecuting Attorney Turner reported as giving this development personal attention.

Attorney General Hogan says information has been received concerning deposits of state money in three local banks, besides those previously notified to furnish an accounting.

Officials connected with the probe think disclosures of widespread law-breaking in connection with deposits of county money are made for the purpose of building up defense by asserting the practice was common and accepted.

Treasurer of nearby township says Cameron offered him private interest on township funds if he would put the funds in the trust company's bank.

COX HAS TRIP TO DAYTON
IN AUTOJourney From Hamilton to Gem
City Replete With Thrilling
Escapes From Accident.

MARTIAL LAW RELAXED

Inhabitants of Stricken Cities Are Making Progress Toward Normal
Civil Law Control.

Dayton, April 4.—Just before leaving Hamilton to return here with Governor Cox and party, General John C. Speaks, after a conference with city and state officials, restored Hamilton to its usual civic routine. Colonel Zimmerman, who has been in charge, went to Cincinnati. The city has been under quasi-martial law since the incapacitation of its mayor, who has been threatened with impeachment.

Several accidents were narrowly averted on the return trip to Dayton of the governor and his party. The road led through territory which heavy rainfall had made almost impassable to negotiate and the governor's auto took another route and caused great concern for a time when it failed to return to Dayton with the remainder of the party.

CREEKS SWOLLEN.

During the afternoon creeks swelled badly, many of the lowland farms within 10 miles of Hamilton being completely inundated by eight inches of water. Farmers of Monroe left shortly before dark to warn Hamilton residents of a possible repetition of high water, declaring that water in that vicinity had risen far above normal.

As the result of "roughing it" the members of the Cox expedition decided that they would not leave Dayton on the remainder of their trip through the flood-stricken sections until this morning. They then probably will go to Columbus, Zanesville and other Ohio river points. A damp, rainy day threw somewhat of a damper on the work of reconstruction in this city, but the energetic ones continued to dig away at the debris in the combined search for the dead and the cleaning up of the city.

Mexican military men here estimate that Huerta has not more than 14,000 troops in all Mexico with which to meet the situation. This is even a smaller army than Porfirio Diaz possessed in combating the Madero revolution.

Uninvited, 200 business men, representing large wholesale houses of this country, visited Dayton and assured the merchants that they will be given plenty of credit on which to re-enter business. Dayton's bread line today fell off from 82,000 persons to 73,000. Several of the large manufacturing plants of the city have announced that they will begin active operations next week. Telephone, railroad, street car and telegraph communication is fast becoming normal again. Within the next two weeks most of the flood refugees are expected to be reinstalled in their homes or homes of their friends.

Military officials at the headquarters of General George H. Wood, who is in command of the militia in this city, announced last night that three looters, whose names they refused to make public, have been arrested and charged with stealing 3000 stamped envelopes from the postoffice. Another looter, it was stated, is under arrest for stealing goods valued at $1000 from a wholesale dry goods house.

In Social Circles

The spring vacation dance tonight at the K. P. hall is the event of the week in the dancing set and to the large number of college students home for the vacation.

Messrs. Winchel Craig and Kenneth Kyle have all arrangements in charge and it is expected to be a very gay little dance, with music furnished by Horstman and drums.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Several patients have undergone operations at the Fayette hospital this week. Among them, Mrs. John Markley, Mrs. Will Judy and Mrs. Earl Lininger, of New Holland. All are doing nicely.

Capt. Horace Ireland, of Company M, is over from Dayton for the day.

Miss May Ellis, of Jeffersonville, is visiting her sister, Miss Edith Fleming.

Mrs. C. E. Lloyd and son Carl, reached home Wednesday night, having been marooned by the flood in Columbus, while on a visit at the home of Rev. T. W. Locke.

Mr. Fred McLean, who was brought from Chicago a month ago to undergo a mastoid operation at the Fayette hospital, was able to leave the hospital and go to the country home of his father, Mr. Jas. McLean, Friday.

Mr. W. R. Smith and son-in-law, Mr. Willis Landsinger, have been among the week's visitors in Dayton. Mr. Landsinger is traveling salesman for Green & Green Wholesale grocery, which company expects to resume business next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis and daughter were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rothrock from Thursday until Friday enroute from Greenfield to their home in New Concord.

Mrs. L. C. Mallow has recovered from an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Fannie Graves, who underwent an operation at the Hodson hospital two weeks ago, has made excellent recovery and was able to return to her home on Market street Thursday.

Mr. C. D. Snyder and family have been obliged to postpone indefinitely all arrangements concerning Mr. Snyder's future business location in the South owing to the critical illness of his father, Mr. John Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Grant arrived from Grove City Friday for a few days' visit with Mrs. Grant's mother, Mrs. S. E. Patton.

Washington friends have received word from Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Peele and son, Dwight, formerly of this city, now in Piqua. The Peeles' home was outside of the flood by a square, but they suffered in the general panic and flood conditions. The night the report was out that the Lewiston reservoir had broken, created the same wild excitement it did in Dayton. Men rode through the streets giving the alarm. "Flee for your lives." The Peeles ran through mud and water for a mile to a high hill, where a thousand people spent a miserable frightened night, wet to the skin, cold and hungry.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ferguson and Mr. Roy Baker, of Dayton, are visiting Mr. Charles Baker and family on North North street.

Mrs. Lloyd Price received a letter from Mrs. R. P. Watt, of Dayton, this morning saying they were all saved and had been able to care for others. They were just at the edge of the flood and boats unloaded their rescued in front of their house, and Mrs. Watt and family took care of 74 people altogether. Tuesday and Wednesday they had 47 at one time and Thursday they had 36, while Friday the number was reduced to 30 and at the time of writing to 17. She said, "I could never begin to tell you the horror of hearing people screaming for help all around. The water supply was shut off and we have had untold horrors. We are so thankful that we were high and dry and could do for the less fortunate."

Friends of Miss Atha Dunfee, who went to Dayton to spend Easter with friends, will be glad to learn that she was safe during the flood and returned home Wednesday.

Mr. Willard Everhart is making excellent recovery from a recent operation at the Fayette hospital. For some weeks Mr. Everhart had been suffering intensely from a carbuncle of unusual size and depth, in the shoulder. The carbuncle was literally "eating his life away", and was effecting the muscles of both back and shoulder, making an operation imperative. His physicians think that he can go to his home south of town in a day or two.

Much Express Goes Through

Freight shipments of goods are so uncertain at the present time that many merchants in this and other towns are shipping by express, and as a result more than a dozen car loads of express matter passed through this city on the B. & O. and C. H. & D. Thursday evening and Friday morning.

A large quantity of damaged express matter has been handled, and some of the damaged packages are stored in the local express building.

Seek Bodies in Other Counties

Coroner Benkert yesterday advised the coroners of Pickaway and Ross Counties to notify him if any bodies are found in their territory which cannot be identified. He believes there is a possibility that bodies of some of the Columbus flood victims may have been carried as far south as Circleville and Chillicothe.

The body of Hazel Dunlap, aged 21, of Delaware, has not yet been recovered. A reward of $100 has been offered for its recovery. The local morgue was notified to be on the lookout for the body.

OHIO RIVER RECEDED

OHIO IS FIVE MILES WIDE.

De Koven, Ky., April 4.—Rain throughout this section yesterday added greatly to the misery of 600 Shawneetown, Ill., refugees camped on the hillsides behind their flooded town. The Ohio river is five miles wide and is running like a mill stream.

SHAWNEETOWN OUTLOOK GRAVE

Shawneetown, Ill., April 4.—With the work of preventing further flood damage practically abandoned, Shawneetown has turned itself toward seeking relief for 1000 refugees camped in tents behind the town or scattered among country friends in the hills. Provisions have been running short since the town has been cut off from the outside world, and today the situation became very grave.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLS PLAYMATE

Carbon Hill, April 4.—Yesterday afternoon while carrying a rifle over his shoulder, Earl, 10-year-old son of Robert Wilkinson, accidentally shot his playmate, Wayne Webb, aged 14, in the head, killing him almost instantly. Witnesses say that the shooting was accidental. The Wilkinson boy was not held.

Patterson Pardon Is Taken Up

Bellefontaine, O., April 3.—In response to a telegram from local churchmen asking for a pardon for John H. Patterson, president of the National Cash Register company, Dayton, President Wilson replied yesterday that he had taken up the matter with the attorney general.

President Patterson's declaration at Dayton that he does not want a pardon because he is not guilty of violating the Sherman law, has not lessened efforts here to secure his pardon.

He was convicted at Cincinnati and sentenced to a year in prison for destroying the business of his rivals by alleged illegal means.

HEALTHY WOMEN SCARCE

Is the Verdict of Scientific Investigation.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well, strong and healthy as a woman should be? They may not be sick enough to lie in bed—but they are run-down, thin, nervous, tired and devitalized.

Women are so active nowadays, and so much is expected of them, that they constantly overdo and suffer from headache, backache, nervousness and kindred ills.

Such women need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil which will create an appetite, tone up the digestive organs, make pure blood and create strength.

Mrs. W. G. Ritchie, Patchogue, N. Y., says: "Vitol is certainly the best tonic I have ever taken. I was run down and tried all the time, but, thanks to Vitol, I am feeling all right again."

Try a bottle of Vitol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Blackmer & Tanquary, Druggist, Washington C. H., Ohio.

Plain Duty for Plain Men

The fact that already before its contents are even known to a certainty when even the general trend is a matter of deduction from pre-election promise and known political expediency, the people are told by experts that the new tariff measure will be a failure, is an indication of what may be expected under certain conditions.

If the enactment of the tariff revision legislation by the Congress which convenes on Monday next is long postponed or the discussion of its provisions prolonged the scope and the intensity of the arguments for and again each proposal will take on its old time trade hindering aspect.

The present administration and the members of the forthcoming Congress should and do have very decided views on the matter of tariff revision—at least their instructions from the people at the polls in November last, cannot be in doubt.

If the members of Congress represent their constituency honestly passing a new tariff law need not be long delayed. No man who is fit to be in Congress can entertain the least doubt about what the people of the nation want. Unless time is wasted in a futile attempt to enact tariff laws which are distasteful to the people and conceal that fact, the new tariff schedules should soon be adopted.

The quicker any change is made the better.

The longer it is put off the more vehement the discussion will become and men who would not be injured at all will be told so frequently that the new law will effect their business injuriously that they will soon believe it themselves.

So far President Wilson has shown a remarkable ability to speak and act clearly and simply. His supreme test will begin on Monday next.

New tariff laws need not, and if framed ably and honestly, will not harm any business, but continual agitation and doubt and the stagnation of business which follows the uncertainty incident to a prolonged discussion is hurtful to all business.

The people have spoken in no uncertain way and Congress has but to obey their command.

To do that is not a matter of any very great difficulty. This thing of creating a mountain from the mole hill of simple duty is foolish and any Congressman who indulges in talk of the great difficulties which arise to prevent the performance of a recognized task, will be called to account by the voters.

A plain duty for plain men confronts Congress.

The Big Broad Plan

Just now in these times of good roads agitation in Ohio and many other eastern and central states it is interesting news that as a result of an energetic good roads campaign waged by Spokane, Washington, citizens the last two years, Spokane county will have $919,000 for road building and improvement in 1913 and 1914. With an additional $163,000 appropriated by the legislature for state roads immediately tributary to Spokane, the total is brought to $1,082,405. The distribution calls for 90 per cent of the amount being concentrated on continuous stretches of standard highway built from trade centers, along main traveled roads which are a part of the state primary trunk highway system. In the comprehensive road program a law has been enacted providing for the development of roads in counties whose assessed valuations do not permit of extensive road work.

Thus a portion of Spokane's road money will be used in building highways in other counties, and connecting all parts of the state. Seattle and Tacoma are to take care of the western Washington and mountain counties in the same way. All state road expenditures are made by the state under direct supervision of the state highway commissioner.

These wide-awake westerners, quick to grasp suggestions designed to better conditions and subject those suggestions to white heat in the crucible of practical adoption, seem to have solved a big question over which the good road advocates of the eastern and central states seem to be stumbling.

The people of Washington have adopted the trunk system of good roads. They start for some objective point and reach that point not by stepping stone patches of good roads, but in one unbroken line. The large cities are made to bear their own proportion of the cost and a large slice of the less wealthy communities. The good roads in Washington are constructed on the plan of huge wheels with the large cities as the hubs and the good roads representing the spokes.

This plan would do away with the hit and miss, go nowhere plan now in vogue and which, it would seem must remain to pestle us so long as each community demands that all its road taxes be spent at home and that each community look after its own roads.

The good roads plan to be successfully worked out to actual realization of blessings must be more comprehensive. It should be a state wide plan in fact as well as name, a state wide blessing and not a community feature.

Poetry For Today

LIFE'S TRAGEDIES.

Who can measure the wrath of the skies,

The swirl of the seething waters,
The desolate wastes and the quick surprise

Where the dawn brings its toll of Martyrs?

Whose arm has the strength of a

Grecian god,

The brain of an infinite depth;
That guerdon mights on the tottering sod,

May be free from the strangler,

Death?

O the wonders that silently seem

Enchained in the lap of the throe
Are the offerings born of a lovely dream,

That no sooner rise, than they go!

And the confident grains that we sow,

In the wold of a plan we are heading;

Have come back with its pain and its blow;

For the fragments are shattered and bleeding!

Yet the hammers that beat at your side

In the wall that will echo and be;
In the wisdom that rides on the tide,

When Nature fulfills destiny.

Benefit Concert

For Flood Victims

Whether north, south, east or west sympathy for Ohio's flood victims is being expressed in practical form.

A number of temporary residents from this city in Asheville, N. C., attended a benefit concert given by local and professional artists on Monday night and write of the warm-hearted sympathy generally called forth in that city.

The Asheville Citizen says in part, "the concert given at the auditorium for the benefit of the fund being raised for the flood victims in Indiana and Ohio was a huge success, over one thousand people passing through the doors. The total fund will reach something like $350 as the result of the efforts of the promoters and of those who so kindly volunteered their services. The only expense attached to the undertaking was the sum of $1.60.

Everything was donated, the use of the auditorium, electricity, heat, piano, flowers, advertising, etc., and the women of the city went up and down the city selling tickets to aid the flood sufferers.

A proposition to issue $25,000 in bonds to build a new school house at New Antioch was defeated at a recent election for the second time. The old building has been condemned but the voters will not authorize a new one.

The value of the annual pack of vegetables, fruits, etc., is greatly in excess of $80,000,000. The great staples are corn, tomatoes, peas, beans, asparagus, pumpkin and sweet potatoes, peaches, apples, apricots, pears, berries and cherries, salmon, sardines and oysters. Meats are also an important factor. The industry is growing year by year.

In an advertisement of farm lands situated in Queensland and Australia the circular declares a farmer can secure valuable freehold at a rate representing the sum which they paid in rent in two years on their property in England.

The appraisers of the once large estate of Tom Johnson, of Cleveland, candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket, are able to find but $32,000. Johnson at one time was said to be worth millions.

Prof. Kramer, of the State Agriculture Experiment Station, at Wooster, predicted the almost total ruin of the Ohio wheat crop as a result of the recent flood. "The only way for farmers to avert losses of millions," he said, "is to plant the ground in other crops."

One thing that discourages an editor somewhat is to work 24 hours a day trying to find out what the real facts are and then have some old coot tell it around that the loss of life and property is purposely exaggerated by the press so as to sell more papers.—Ohio State Journal.

After closing a three days' campaign to obtain funds to equip the athletic field recently purchased by the Newark board of education the high school pupils found themselves in possession of $4500. A GLIMPSE BACK
THROUGH YEARS

(John E. M. Kerr.)

October 31, 1867.

Our young friend O. H. Saxton left for Cincinnati this week to attend the winter course of lectures at the Ohio Medical College in that city. Jesse J. Worley, son of Dr. A. Worley, of this place is also attending Medical lectures in Cincinnati.

The following officers were installed for the ensuing year by the Masons of this town: John M. Turk, High Priest; S. N. Yeoman, King; James Ely, Scribe; J. W. Cleveland, Capt. of the Host; Mills Gardner, Principal Sojourner; W. P. Cleveland, Royal Arch Captain; B. F. Mouzer, G. M. of 3rd Vail; Conrad Garrison, G. M. of 2nd Vail; B. H. Millikan, Sec'y.; John Miser, Treasurer; and L. C. Kearney, Guard.

The overland mail now reaches Chicago from San Francisco in the remarkable time of fourteen days out.

We noticed our former townsmen, Capt. Geo. B. Gardner, of Hillsboro, in attendance at Common Pleas Court last week. George looks as though he was enjoying the blessing of good health and we are happy to say that his residence in the "model" village has detracted nothing from his proverbial "good looks."

Cincinnati Market.—Flour $12.00 per bbl; corn 83 cents per bu.; butter, Western Reserve, 34 to 63 cents per pound. Hay $17.00 per ton. Potatoes $1.15 per bushel. Cattle $16.50 per 100; Hogs 6 to 7 cents per pound sheep $2.25 to $3.50 per head. Eggs 15 cents per dozen.

Fire Threatens An Ohio Village

Shawnee, April 4.—Fire in New Straitsville yesterday destroyed Collins' oil well derrick and buildings. The loss is $4000. Wade Knight's residence also burned, with a loss of $2000.

The situation was very dangerous and beyond control for a while. Three other fires had started and 25 oil wells with all tanks full, containing thousands of barrels of oil, were in the immediate vicinity of the fire, no oil having been run for 10 days, owing to flood conditions. The firemen appealed to surrounding towns for assistance and only the prompt service rendered saved the town from complete destruction.

Fined for Drunk In Circleville

Al McGinnis, colored, of this city was given $5 and the costs before mayor of Circleville Thursday, on a charge of drunkenness.

It is claimed that McGinnis got into trouble through meeting Jay Cole, formerly of this city and against whom McGinnis had testified and was compelled to protect himself, which he did with telling effect upon his adversary. Both men had been drinking, it is alleged.

Furnished Gas Under Difficulties

The Central Contract and Finance company, which furnishes the gas supply to the local mains, labored under great difficulties to prevent a shortage of gas in this and other towns on its line, but Washington was one of the very few places where the gas pressure was ample.

The compressors near Lancaster were run under four feet of water, and how the gas supply escaped being cut off at the numerous streams crossed, is little short of miraculous.

In this city the supply was momentarily expected to be cut off during the flood, and the fact that it was not disturbed prevented much suffering here.

Frank C. Parrett Buys Large Farm

A real estate deal involving the sum of $57,860 was recorded in this county this week. The property was a 526 acre farm in Ross township, being a part of the estate of the late George Harper and recently transferred by Mrs. Harper to James and Annie Murray of Clark county. The Murrays sold the property to Frank C. Parrett, of Washington C. H., for the sum mentioned above.—Xenia Gazette.

in the case of the Fayette County Hardware company against Sorrell Brothers, of Good Hope, wherein the defendants won in an action brought in the Justice of the Peace's court at Good Hope, the plaintiffs have carried it to the Common Pleas court.

they heard a call of warning to get out of their home, that the waters were rising fast. So quickly did the flood come upon them that they had to wade out and barely escaped with no time to even grab some food. They took refuge in the Victoria building, at the edge of the river, and were marooned there for 5 days. During all that time they had nothing to eat but one loaf of dry bread and nothing to drink save a few drops of water which dropped from an ice tank high above them. The children took turns catching these precious drops in a teaspoon. The experience of this mother and her five hungry little ones are too terrible to recall.

The Swartzbaughs lost everything they had. Their home broke in two and their piano and furniture floated out with the waters.

The flood conditions have affected the floral gardens greatly, the perishable flowers meaning an utter loss. There has been a gorgeous wealth of bloom for the past two weeks and hardly places to keep the cut blossoms, which could not reach their usual city markets.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists.

This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed that nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your mere request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes: 50c and $1.00.

EXTREME CRUELTY

Is Charge Placed Against Her Husband By Woman Who Seeks Divorce and Alimony---Claims She Was Choked and Kicked and Painfully Injured By the Defendant.

Alleging that her husband cursed, abused and neglected her, Ollie Blackburn has filed suit for divorce and alimony from William Blackburn, the action being brought in Common Pleas court through her attorneys, Rankin and Rankin. They were married here in 1909.

The plaintiff gives as her first cause of action that the defendant failed to provide her with necessary clothing and medicine, although he is alleged to have received as high as $3 per day during part of the time.

In her second cause for action the plaintiff charges the defendant with extreme cruelty, and alleges that because of his ill treatment she left him, but returned when he promised not to repeat the ill treatment, and that soon after her return the treatment was worse than ever.

She further states that in September, 1912, the defendant choked her, threw her to the floor, and kicked her upon the head, inflicting injuries which required the attention of a physician. Again she agreed to remain with him when he promised better treatment, she alleges.

Later she left him, she states, because she feared he would do her bodily harm, or even take her life, and has remained away from him since that time.

She asks that a decree of divorce may be granted, and that she be awarded reasonable alimony.

The C. H. & D. Is Hard Hit

Only Entrance to Chillicothe Is Over B. & O. New Track, and Below Chillicothe Road Is a Complete Wreck and Will Require Sometime to Repair.

South of Chillicothe the C. H. & D. railroad is said to be a complete wreck, and it may be weeks before traffic is restored, as the tracks are rearranged, roadbed destroyed and bridges carried away.

Speaking of the almost complete annihilation of the road near Chillicothe, the Chillicothe Advertiser says:

"People, who for the past 30 years have been accustomed to seeing C. H. & D. trains come into Chillicothe on South Paint street, never expected to see the day that conditions would reverse in a week's time, and that the trains would come in at the north end of the same street, but that's what is happening now. It is a freak of the flood, and not an April Fool at all."

The first train arriving at Chillicothe since the flood, was a passenger train from Washington C. H. It was transferred from the C. H. & D. to the B. & O. tracks at Musseleman and came into the city over the new temporary track, built along the canal bank and around the south side of Yoctangee park instead of the north side.

It reached the head of Paint street at 12:12 and was an object of curiosity. The hotels had been notified of its coming and sent its busses to the B. & O. station, but when the train got in it was empty. Everybody got off uptown, when a stop was made at the head of Paint street. The Cincinnati train came in the same way an hour later, and now all trains are coming here via the new track.

Bridge Wearing Under the Strain

Columbus, Ohio, April 4.—Loads heavier than three tons are not to cross the Rich street bridge from now on, as it is being worn under the increasing heavy traffic, and it has been found that bolts in the angle irons are loose. The old T. & O. C. bridge, open for traffic, cannot support heavy floods, and the public is being urged to go to the West Side by way of Dublin Avenue bridge and Sandusky street, as much as possible.

Planning Single Span Bridges

Columbus, O., April 4.—"The longest single span bridge in the world, at Hamilton, O., was swept away by the floods of last week," said State Highway Commissioner James R. Marker, Thursday, while speaking of the disaster to bridge structures of the state. "The span was 524 feet." Speaking of the obstruction of the channel that the bridges over the Scioto with their several piers, constituted, Mr. Marker said it would be perfectly feasible to construct single span bridges here, thus obviating the obstruction to the current that the piers would necessarily make, but the cost would be considerably increased over that of the ordinary mid stream pier method of construction.

Hetzell, who is the son of a wealthy and respectable business man of Connellsville, Pa., makes a specialty of swindling through an alleged recipe for making artificial grape juice. He is charged by a number of Columbus people with inducing them to invest in his scheme by purchasing an interest in the recipe. He managed to substitute real grape juice for the product of his recipe and on representation that the process is infinitely cheaper than the making of real grape juice, and that the product can not be told from the real thing, he readily impressed his victims with the profits in his plan.

The property principally involved is that along both sides of Garfield place, the square of Eighth street between Vine on the east and Elm street on the west. Side streets, such as Race, Vine and Elm, also are taken in.

Here's Something New Secretary Of War Won't See With His Eye

LINDLEY M. GARRISON, the new secretary of war, late a vice chancellor of New Jersey, has dropped his dry law books and intricate questions of equity for the more exciting implements of war and the problems of national defense. He'll inspect some of the more important forts as soon as he can, and when he reaches Fort Monroe, Va., he will see the big guns in target practice. But his eye, no matter how keen, will not be able to catch such a picture as this. The snapshot, timed by an electrical apparatus attached to the gun, shows the projectile just shooting forth above the cloud of smoke. Other snapshots have been taken so delicately timed as to show the projectile in various other stages of its flight.

GRAPE JUICE SHARK CAPTURED IN CANADA IS BACK IN PRISON

Said to Be Same Man Who Tried to Induce Local Citizen to Invest in Scheme to Make a Fortune From "Grape Juice."

Charles Hetzel, known over several states as "the grape juice swindler", is under arrest in Columbus, having been captured in Canada by Postoffice Inspector George Craighead. Hetzel had been arrested previous to this but skipped his bond and was only captured by the inspector after a chase through Baltimore, Washington, New York, Winnipeg and Toronto. He was under federal indictment for using the mails to defraud, and is said to be the same man who last fall tried to induce a well known local man to invest in a new process "grape juice" in which he alleged a fortune could be easily made, but was turned down on suspicion of being crooked.

Hetzell, who is the son of a wealthy and respectable business man of Connellsville, Pa., makes a specialty of swindling through an alleged recipe for making artificial grape juice. He is charged by a number of Columbus people with inducing them to invest in his scheme by purchasing an interest in the recipe. He managed to substitute real grape juice for the product of his recipe and on representation that the process is infinitely cheaper than the making of real grape juice, and that the product can not be told from the real thing, he readily impressed his victims with the profits in his plan.

He made a clean get-away after raking in the coin of the Columbus people, but was traced to Cleveland through a woman who had been associated with him while here. Being unable to give the $1000 bond that U. S. Commissioner A. H. Johnson required in his case, Hetzel went to jail and there met N. H. Barber, a former member of the legislature from Guernsey county, who was serving a sentence for vagrancy. Barber put him in communication with a wealthy brewer of Cambridge, who having been put out of business by the county option law was looking for a new business to embark in, and Hetzel soon had him sufficiently interested in his grape juice plan to sign his $1,000 bond.

Hetzell did not pursue Lloyd further, however, but fled as soon as he secured his liberty. When his case was called for trial and he did not appear Lloyd was asked to come across with the $1000 which he did.

Hetzell was unable to give bond Tuesday and has been placed again in jail. As he has been indicted already he will be brought before Judge Sater for arraignment as soon as he returns to the city, which will probably be on Friday.
